General Section

This regulation outlines who is eligible for financial support from the Student Support Fund (StOF) – Special Circumstances section – and the requirements for submitting an application. For clarity, the information is presented as concisely as possible. Definitions of terms used can be found in the glossary (Appendix 1).

To be eligible for financial support, students must comply with the conditions and procedures outlined in this regulation, both in the general section and the specific provisions for each circumstance.

Legal Basis of the Regulation

This regulation implements the relevant articles of the Dutch Higher Education and Research Act (WHW) concerning the Student Support Fund (StOF), namely articles 7.51 and 7.51b, c, d, f, h, and i.

The regulation sets out rules regarding:

a. the criteria for granting financial support;
b. the amount and duration of financial support;
c. the application and awarding procedure;
d. the payment of the awarded financial support.

The Executive Board (EB) adopted this regulation, based on the WHW and with the consent of the University Council (UC), on 7 July 2025. This regulation is titled StOF September 2025.

Sections

Students with circumstances affecting their academic progress may apply for financial support under the following situations:

- PART 1 – Personal circumstances of the student, including:
    - Illness, pregnancy, and childbirth;
    - A disability or chronic illness;
    - Special family circumstances.

- PART 2 – Educational circumstances, including:
    - A degree programme with insufficient study feasibility;
    - Loss of accreditation of a programme.
- PART 3 – Top-level sport and top-level culture
- PART 4 – Board membership in a student organisation, student team participation, or student representation

The general framework set out in this section applies to all cases, supplemented by specific provisions for each respective circumstance.

General Conditions for Financial Support

- To be eligible for financial support, a student must be enrolled full-time in an initial bachelor's or master's programme at the University of Twente[1].
- Pre-master's students are not covered by this regulation.
- The student can receive financial compensation in their first bachelor's and first master's degree.
- During the enrolment period, the student must have paid statutory tuition fees or institutional tuition fees to UT. Students enrolled based on proof of paid tuition fee (BBC) are not eligible for financial support.
- A student enrolled in two bachelor's or two master's programmes simultaneously at UT (resulting in two certificates) may only claim financial support for the nominal duration of the longest programme, starting from the initial enrolment in that programme phase.

Amount of Compensation

For all circumstances mentioned in PARTS 1 to 4:

- For EEA students, who pay the statutory tuition fee, the compensation per recognised month is fixed at the amount of the DUO basic grant for students living away from home at the time the application is granted.
- For non-EEA Students who pay the institutional tuition fee, the compensation per recognised month is a reduction of the tuition fee from the institutional rate to the statutory rate by means of a waiver by the faculty for the acknowledged period after the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's programme

[1] Students enrolled full-time in the master's programme in Geo-information Science and Earth Observation at UT are included.

- Financial support is granted as a gift.

Maximum Compensation

- The total amount of StOF compensation an EEA student can receive is capped at 18 months/grants for their entire enrolment period at UT.
- For non-EEA students the tuition fee reduction applies for the number of recognised months, up to a maximum of six months.
- If a student submits multiple applications due to overlapping circumstances (e.g., board work and personal circumstances), no more than 12 months/grants of support can be granted per academic year.

Completeness of Information and Rectification Period

- Students are responsible for submitting applications and supporting documents on time. If an application is not submitted on time, it will not be processed. Deadlines and conditions are described in the relevant section of this regulation.
- In the application students must declare if they have applied for compensation under different circumstances during the same period, or if DUO provisions were used. Providing incorrect or incomplete information may result in rejection.
- If an application is incomplete, the applicant will be asked to supplement it within eight weeks. If the missing information is not completed within this period and the deadline has passed, the application will not be processed further unless a different deadline has been agreed upon with the Committee Personal Circumstances (CPO). The applicant will be informed of this decision.

Decision

The Committee Personal Circumstances (CPO), mandated by the Executive Board, is responsible for decisions. The decision may include:

- full or partial approval of the application;
- refusal to process the application due to late submission;
- refusal due to an incomplete application not being completed on time;
- rejection of a timely and complete application if it does not meet the requirements of the regulation;

- rejection if the CPO is not convinced of the impact of the circumstances on study progress, even if all requirements are met.

A reasoned decision will be provided in writing to the applicant.

Payment

- Payments are made to the student's bank account after the application has been granted.
- Payment is made as a single lump sum for the eligible period.

Hardship Clause

- If the application of this regulation leads to severe unfairness in an individual case, the CPO may deviate from the rules in favour of the student.

Objection and Appeal

- Each decision includes instructions on how to file an objection.
- Applicants may submit an objection within six weeks of (partial) rejection via the UT complaints desk.

Entry into Force

- This regulation enters into force on 1 September 2025.

Transitional Provisions

- Parts 1, 2, and 3:
    - This StOF September 2025 regulation applies from 1 September 2025 and replaces the FOBOS September 2024 regulation. Students who reported their circumstances to a student counsellor before this date may, in consultation, use the FOBOS September 2024 regulation for that study phase. This option is available until 1 September 2026.
- Part 4:
    - Applications relating to board membership, Student Teams, or Participation in student representation that started in the academic year 2024-2025 will be processed under the FOBOS September 2024 regulation.

Part 1 – Personal Circumstances

Within StOF, financial compensation is available for students who experience a study delay during their nominal study period due to personal circumstances. This section outlines the conditions under which compensation is granted and how a student can apply.

Conditions

- The student must meet the conditions stated in the general section.
- The student must have incurred a study delay during the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's phase, starting from first enrolment at UT[2].
- This delay must be a direct and irreversible consequence of:
    - Illness or pregnancy and childbirth;
    - A disability or chronic illness;
    - Exceptional family circumstances.
- Medical circumstances must have lasted for at least one month to be eligible for StOF compensation.
- Students who are receiving (or would be entitled to receive if applied for) an extension of the performance-related grant from DUO due to a study delay caused by these personal circumstances are not eligible for StOF compensation for the first twelve months of such delay.
- The student must report the circumstances to their study adviser within three months of their onset.
    - If the student fails to report the circumstances to the study adviser in a timely manner, the starting point of the circumstances will be considered to be the moment the student reported them.
- Preferably within three months after the delay has begun, the student should schedule an appointment with the student counsellor for an advisory meeting regarding the circumstances and applicable regulations.
- The student must do everything possible to limit the study delay and comply with any agreements made with the programme/study adviser, to the extent the circumstances allow.

[2] If the student has switched to a different programme during the bachelor's or master's phase, the nominal duration of the final programme applies, calculated from the first enrolment in that phase.

Application

- EEA students must submit applications no later than three months after the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's phase has ended:
    - September intake – apply before 1 December
    - February intake – apply before 1 May
    - Other intake months – apply within three months after the end of the nominal duration of the relevant phase
- For non-EEA students the application deadline is July 1st of the final nominal academic year.
- EEA students who discontinued their studies at UT must submit their request no later than three months after deregistration by emailing cpo@utwente.nl.
- The application must be supported by evidence, depending on the specific circumstance:
    - A statement from a registered healthcare professional (BIG-registered doctor or psychologist)[3];
    - A recognised diagnosis of a disability or chronic illness from a BIG-registered institution;
    - Written documentation substantiating the special family circumstances[4].
- Applications are submitted via an online application form.
- Students are required to discuss the intended application in advance with the student counsellor.

Decision

- The study delay is calculated based on the number of ECs missed during the period in which the CPO recognises that the circumstances affected the student's studies.
    - Results of parts of a study unit, as well as academic progress in the final project or internship phase, may be included. The student may be asked to submit a progress report for the final project or internship as part of the application.
    - The progress overview in Osiris is decisive.
    - 5 ECs of delay correspond to one month of compensation.

[3] Evidence provided by a foreign doctor or psychologist must be substantiated by the student and is subject to assessment by the CPO.
[4] If no written evidence can be provided, the application must be accompanied by a statement from the study adviser or student counsellor.

- If necessary, the CPO may request and consider a statement from the study adviser and/or student counsellor in the decision-making process.
- The CPO will make a decision as soon as possible after the complete application has been submitted.

Part 2 – Educational Circumstances

The University of Twente strives to ensure smooth progression within its educational programmes, enabling students to complete their bachelor's or master's degree within the nominal duration. Nonetheless, situations may arise that hinder academic progress. If this is caused by educational decisions or shortcomings on the part of the programme, this may be considered insufficient study feasibility. Additionally, loss of accreditation may occur, which can prevent students from continuing their studies with entitlement to DUO grants. This section outlines the conditions under which compensation may be granted in such cases, along with the application procedure.

2a Insufficiently Feasible Programme

A programme is considered insufficiently feasible if a delay arises in the student's studies due to the structure of the curriculum, and through no fault of the student.

Conditions

The general conditions of the StOF apply. In addition, the following specific conditions must be met:

- The student has incurred a study delay during the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's phase, starting from the initial enrolment at UT[5].
    - If the circumstances occurred outside the nominal duration, the CPO will determine whether the application is admissible.
- The delay must be a direct and irreversible consequence of the insufficient feasibility of the programme.
- The student must have reported the situation as soon as possible, but no later than three months after it arose, to the study adviser and/or the student counsellor.
    - If the student failed to report the situation in a timely manner, the date of notification to the study adviser or student counsellor will be considered the starting point of the circumstances.
- A meeting with the student counsellor is mandatory prior to submitting an application.

[5] If the student has transferred to a different programme during the bachelor's or master's phase, the nominal duration of the final programme applies, calculated from the first enrolment in that phase.

Application for Compensation

- EEA students must submit applications within three months after the relevant circumstance has ended.
- Non-EEA students wishing to apply for the waiver must submit their request by July 1st of the relevant nominal academic year.
- The application must include a personal statement describing the situation, accompanied by any supporting documents where possible.
- The application should be submitted via the online application form.

Decision

- The CPO will also consider the perspective of the academic programme involved before making a decision.
- In making its decision, the CPO will assess whether the situation could reasonably have been avoided by the programme and whether sufficient efforts were made by both the programme and the student to resolve the issue and prevent further delay. The CPO will base its decision on the student's statement and the information provided by the programme.
- If necessary, and at the CPO's discretion, a hearing may be organised. Both the student and the programme director will receive an invitation to this session.
    - During the hearing, both parties will be given the opportunity to explain their positions, and the CPO may ask additional questions.
    - A short summary of the hearing will be shared with both parties. The CPO will issue a decision as soon as possible after the application is complete.
- The delay is calculated based on the number of ECs missed during the period recognised by the CPO as affected by the circumstances.
    - Results of parts of a study unit, as well as academic progress achieved during a graduation project or internship, may be included. The student may be asked to submit a progress report for the final project or internship as part of the application.
    - The progress overview in Osiris is decisive.
    - 5 ECs of delay correspond to one month of compensation.
- Any granted compensation will be charged to the academic programme.

2b Loss of Accreditation

When a degree programme loses its accreditation (either because the accreditation is not renewed or due to a negative accreditation decision), the first course of action is to offer students the opportunity to complete the programme at another Dutch university. If that is not possible, the institution may allow currently enrolled students to graduate. However, with the loss of accreditation, the right to DUO grants is forfeited.

When such a situation occurs, affected students will be actively informed by the programme board about the possibility of applying for compensation.

Conditions

- The student must meet the general conditions set out in the regulation.
- The student must be enrolled in an initial bachelor's or master's programme for which accreditation has lapsed.
- The student is unable to complete the programme at another Dutch university and continues the programme at UT without interruption.
- The student still had entitlement to DUO grants for the programme at the time accreditation was lost.

Application for Compensation

- Applications must be submitted within three months after the loss of accreditation.
- The application must include proof that the student was still entitled to DUO grants at the time accreditation was withdrawn (e.g., a notification from DUO).
- The application should be submitted via the online application form.

Decision

- The CPO will issue a decision as soon as possible after the complete application is submitted.

Part 3 – Top-Level Sport and Top-Level Culture

Within the Student Support Fund (StOF), financial compensation is available for students who, as officially recognised top-level athletes or top-level culture practitioners (Category 1), experience a study delay during their nominal study period due to their commitment.

This section outlines the conditions for granting compensation and the application procedure.

Conditions

- The student must meet the conditions set out in the general section.
- The student is officially recognised as a top-level athlete Category 1 or top-level culture practitioner Category 1 according to the Top-Level Sport & Culture Regulation (Appendix 2).
- The student must have incurred a study delay during the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's phase, starting from the initial enrolment at UT[6].
- The delay must be a direct and irreversible consequence of practising top-level sport or culture.
- The student must have discussed issues affecting their academic progress with their study adviser in advance and drawn up a realistic study plan together.
- The student must discuss the study delay with the top-level sport coordinator annually, within three months after the end of the academic year.

Application for Compensation Due to Top-Level Sport or Culture

- EEA students must submit their applications no later than three months after the end of the nominal duration of the bachelor's or master's phase:
    - September intake – apply before 1 December
    - February intake – apply before 1 May
    - Other intake months – apply within three months after the end of the nominal phase.
- For non-EEA students the application deadline is July 1st of the final nominal academic year.

[6] If the student has transferred to a different programme during the bachelor's or master's phase, the nominal duration of the final programme applies, calculated from the first enrolment in that phase.

- EEA Students who discontinued their studies at UT must submit their request no later than three months after deregistration by emailing cpo@utwente.nl.
- The application must be accompanied by proof of Category 1 recognition for each academic year for which compensation is requested.
- Applications are submitted via an online application form.

Decision

- The delay is calculated based on the number of ECs missed during the period recognised by the CPO as affected by the top-level activity.
    - Results of parts of a study unit, as well as academic progress achieved during a graduation project or internship, may be included. The student may be asked to submit a progress report for the final project or internship as part of the application.
    - The progress overview in Osiris is decisive.
    - 5 ECs of delay correspond to one month of compensation.

- The CPO will issue a decision as soon as possible after the complete application is submitted.

Part 4 – Board Grants

Within the Student Support Fund (StOF), there is support for students who hold a board position in a student organisation or are involved in participation or administrative bodies. This part elaborates the conditions attached to being eligible for grants and how a student can apply for them.

Conditions

- The student must meet the conditions set out in the general section.
- The student has held a board or participation position within an organisation as stated in the Division of Board Grants (Appendix 3).

Application for Board Grants

- The application for a board grant takes place no later than three months after the end of the period in which the board activities took place.
- The application is done per organisation and is accompanied by a statement about the distribution.
    - In the case of a participation or administrative body, this is a nomination by the clerk of the administrative or participation body.
    - In the case of a student organisation, this is a document signed by the entire board of the organisation showing the distribution of the number of grants within the board of which the EEA student has been a member: the grant distribution (add link to form).
- The distribution among individual members of the administrative or participation body or the student organisation can never be higher than the number of grants allocated to that body/organisation in the Division of Board Grants (Appendix 3).

Provision non-EEA

- Non-EEA students are not eligible to receive board grants and waivers simultaneously. For full-time boards positions in the groups of study associations, infrastructure and participation, a maximum of 23 non-EEA board members, who pay the institutional fee, are eligible for a financial provision. This provision is in principle limited to one non-EEA board member per association, but the allocation can be redistributed amongst the associations provided the total number does not exceed 23. This provision must be requested as part of the board grant application and consists of a tuition fee discount up to the statutory tuition fee for the board member in question with a maximum of 6 months, in accordance with the conditions set out in the general section. For all other types of boards, non-EEA students are eligible for the same board grants as EEA students.

- Non-EEA students who want to make use of this waiver must submit their application no later than July 1st before the relevant nominal academic year.

Decision

- The CPO will issue a decision as soon as possible after the complete application is submitted.

Appendix 1 – Glossary

The terms used in this regulation shall, if they also appear in the WHW (Higher Education and Research Act) or the WSF 2000 (Student Finance Act 2000), have the meanings ascribed to them in the WHW or the WSF 2000, respectively.

- CPO: The Committee for Personal Circumstances (Commissie Persoonlijke Omstandigheden) is mandated by the Executive Board to assess personal circumstances as referred to in Article 7.51 of the WHW.
- EC: A unit equivalent to 28 hours of study load, in accordance with the European Credit Transfer System. A full-time academic year comprises 60 EC, equivalent to 1,680 hours (Article 7.4 WHW).
- Months/grants: In some cases, 'months' do not directly refer to a time indication, but are used as a count for how many grants a student can receive. The notation 'months/grants' is used whenever these two words are used to address the same thing.
- Initial programme: The first enrolment (main enrolment) in a government-funded bachelor's or master's degree programme at the University of Twente, for which no degree has yet been awarded.
- Discontinuation of studies: Discontinuation of studies is considered to occur when a student no longer participates in educational activities or assessments and submits a formal request for deregistration at UT.
- SU: The Student Union, the umbrella organisation for student engagement at the University of Twente, promotes (extracurricular) academic competencies and is responsible for decision-making regarding the allocation en division of board budgets (Appendix 3).
- Comité Studententeams Twente: The umbrella Board of the Team Twente Teams is responsible for the general interests of the Team Twente Teams and the distribution of their board budgets.
- Top-level Sports and Culture Committee: The committee is responsible for assessing whether students qualify as top sport athletes or top cultural practitioners, as defined in the Top-Sports & Culture Regulation (Appendix 2), and are responsible for determining their accreditation category.
- Top-level Sports Coordinator: The student counsellor who serves as the central contact point for top-level athletes and top-level cultural practitioners at the University of Twente.

Appendix 2 – Top-Level Sport & Top-Level Culture Regulation

The Top-Level Sport and Culture Regulation aims to make it possible for students to combine their studies with top-level sport or top-level cultural activities. To this end, three types of support are offered to recognised athletes, artists, and performers studying at the University of Twente, including tailored study guidance, (free) use of university facilities, and financial support in the event of a study delay.

This scheme applies to both able-bodied and disabled athletes.

Definition and Application of the Regulation

The support offered by the University of Twente enables athletes, artists, and performers to responsibly combine their sport or cultural activities with their academic studies. The scheme is intended for both regular top-level athletes and athletes with a disability.

The Top-Level Sport & Culture Scheme provides three types of facilities for top-level athletes and top-level culture practitioners:

1. Tailored Study Guidance:
   Once per quarter, or more frequently if desirable, students meet with their study adviser to develop an integrated sport/culture and study plan. Special attention is given to potential conflicts and possible solutions, aiming to create a realistic and feasible plan. Students are responsible for timely communication and must adopt a proactive attitude.

2. Free Use of UT Facilities:
   Athletes can use sports facilities (e.g., gym) free of charge. Artists and performers can consult the Top-Level Sport and Culture committee regarding available facilities.

3. Financial Support for a Study Delay:
   This support is available only for students with a Category 1 status. Part 3 of the StOF regulation applies. A study delay caused by top-level sport or top-level cultural activities is discussed and recorded annually with the top-level sport coordinator.

Conditions

To be eligible for this regulation, a student must meet the following criteria:

Top-Level Sport

There are two categories with the following criteria:

- Category 1:
  Top-level athletes recognised by their sports federation, which must itself be recognised by NOC*NSF, holding one of the following statuses: A, HP (High Potential), Bond (Federation), IT (International Talent), NT (National Talent), or Promising. International top-level athletes with a comparable status are also eligible.
- Category 2:
  Athletes competing at the highest national senior or junior level, or athletes who previously held a Category 1 status and are expected to return to this level soon. Students participating at national level in cultural activities such as orchestras, theatre, cabaret, or other art forms may also be eligible.

The time commitment must amount to at least 10 hours of training and/or four sport-specific (team) training sessions per week, excluding travel time.

Top-Level Culture

The student must have a cultural career with demonstrable time commitment and significant achievements in competitions or exhibitions. Individual assessments determine whether a student qualifies for Category 1 or Category 2 status.

Ambassador Role

All recognised top-level athletes and top-level culture practitioners must be willing to act as ambassadors for the University of Twente regarding their achievements. Specific agreements may be made in this regard.

Procedure

To qualify for this scheme, a student must submit an application annually before 1 December of the current academic year to be recognised as a top-level athlete or top-level culture practitioner. Applications are submitted via the online application form. An exception may be made for students who are granted official NOC*NSF status after 1 December.

The Top-Level Sport & Culture Committee will make a recommendation to the Committee on Personal Circumstances (CPO), which will decide within eight weeks of receiving the application and inform the student of its decision:

- Recognition as Category 1;
- Recognition as Category 2;
- No recognition.

Throughout the academic year, students must be able to demonstrate that they continue to qualify as either Category 1 or Category 2. Applications concerning periods that have already passed will not be accepted.

Top-Level Sport Applications

The application must include:

- A personal statement describing the type of sport, the number of training hours per week, and a brief overview of the sports career (competitions and achievements);
- An official statement from the sports federation indicating the current level of performance.

Top-Level Culture Applications

Applications for top-level culture must include:

- A personal statement describing the type of cultural activity, the number of hours dedicated to it, and a brief overview of the cultural career (competitions and achievements).

Appendix 3 – Division of Board Grants

Based on these total budgets, and according to the distribution rules set out in the FOBOS September 2024 regulation, the following allocation among the boards has been determined. The Student Union (SU) is responsible for the policy regarding this allocation, except for the sections related to Student Teams and Participation, where the Comité Studententeams Twente and the Executive Board (EB) respectively are responsible.

Starting from the academic year 2026-2027, a new distribution will be implemented.

For the academic year 2025-2026, the EB has awarded, upon the SU's recommendation, the following number of grants per group:

Group	Number of Grants
Study Associations	725
Sports Associations	260
Cultural Associations	40
Social Associations	155
Bars/Pubs	75
World Associations	35
Student Teams	350
Infrastructure	240
Participation (University Council and UC-Ow)	35
Other	90
Extra and Incidental	40

This allocation is based on the 2025 FOBOS grant distribution, itself based on membership counts and recorded work hours. In the interest of properly compensating students with a higher risk of a study delay due to greater responsibilities and workload, cuts have been larger for less intensive boards.

Exception: The Student Teams group has faced proportionally larger cuts, due to a sharp increase in applications in recent years, resulting in a disproportionate share of grants compared to other groups.

Distribution Within the Groups

Grants within each group are distributed by the relevant representative parties.
The Student Union generally holds final responsibility, with exceptions for Student Teams, Infrastructure, and Participation.

Within each group, a different method is used to determine how the grants are allocated. This method is decided by the parties involved. The distribution will be published yearly on Overview regulations | Regulations | SGW
