SUBJECT
Advice AM-Master; SACS-specialisation

Based on observations by students, we have considered the workload in the SACS specialization of the AM programme. We observe that indeed the workload may become unreasonably high, in particular in quartile 2A. On the whole, the programme also leaves little room for electives.

We advise the Programme Director to reconsider this programme. We suggest a workable solution for next academic year regarding the imbalanced and high study load is proposed.

Kind regards,

Hil Meijer,
chair Programme Committee AM
