SUBJECT
Advice on the Statistics Reader

The PC is pleased with the ideas the team has to improve their module. It is also a positive development that a reader for the Statistics part has been composed. Nevertheless, it has been observed that the reader may be improved much more. In order to leverage the effectiveness of the editorial work, we recommend that the new reader is also proofread by students several times to get constructive feedback from the target audience.

Kind regards,

Hil Meijer,
chair Programme Committee AM
