

Dear colleagues and students,

As a result of the measures surrounding the coronavirus, it has not been possible to keep to the initial timetable for the Faculty Council BMS elections. A new timetable is drawn up and the voting period will be from Monday 22 June to Friday 26 June. You can find this new schedule on the website of the Electoral Committee BMS.

We have two announcements in this message.

1. Electoral register
2. Stand for a seat in the Faculty Council

1 Electoral register

The Electoral Committee pulled up electoral registers for students and for employees on 5 March 2020. Only if your name is included in this register you can be a candidate for membership of the Faculty Council and are able to cast a vote during the election period. You can check if you are on the list from Monday 20 April to Monday 4 May. You can send your request to check if you are on the list by mail to Jasmine Verenjans.

Please check if you are registered and registered correctly. You can appeal until 12 May by email reply.

2 Stand for a seat in the Faculty Council

Both employees and students may stand for the Faculty Council. Students stand for one year, employees stand for a two year cycle. In the Faculty Council you will think along, co-advise and co-decide on subjects like faculty policy (the Education and Examination Regulations (EER), financial resources for education and research, agreement on the establishment of or ending of a chair.

To nominate yourself please present yourself not later than 1 June, 17:00 hours with a nominee list and a Statement of willingness. Your candidacy must be supported by five students or employees who are in the same electoral register as you are. See for the mentioned forms and other information the webpages of the Elections. We ask you to forward your endorsement via email to Jasmine Verenjans. This statement replaces the signature procedure.

Make yourself heard ... and nominate yourself!

Note that you can nominate with an individual list or with a collective list together with likeminded nominees. Seats are allocated to the lists based on the number of votes cast on the list. In case of a vacancy in the midst of a cycle, the seat is offered to nominees from the same list first.

For further information on the Faculty Council see their webpages or turn to current members of the Faculty Council BMS.
