

About me: I, Frederik Vos, work at the UT already for 9 years. Currently, I work as Assistant Professor in Public Health and Industrial Procurement. I am the present chair of the faculty council BMS, coordinator of the PSM master track of Business Administration and part of several UT/BMS-wide initiatives. Next to my work at the UT, I am Senior Consultant at the Public Procurement Research Center (PPRC), Treasurer of the International Purchasing, Supply Education & Research Association (IPSERA), Vice President of the Nederlandse Vereniging voor Inkoopmanagement (NEVI) and co-owner of suPlay B.V., a serious game company. I would like to continue my work as member of the faculty council of the past 2 years and assure overall continuity within the Faculty Council & BMS.

My Vision for the Faculty Council: Picking up STEaM and BMS under STEaM led to quite some changes and I think it is relevant now to focus on consolidating / stabilizing BMS. Additionally, together with the new board, a special focus should be given to reward and recognition of employees, including a stronger focus on (HRM) supporting the primary process and employees. Furthermore, I want to continue our constructive collaboration with the new faculty board to make processes and appointments more stakeholder-inclusive. I aim at discussing changes to the faculty regulation to formalize employee/stakeholder involvement of appointments of important BMS positions better (such as section and department heads). Beyond these immediate key initiatives, I am / we are always open to any additional suggestions!
