

INTERN STRATEGY CONSULTANT ONLINE

We are looking for interns who have the potential to develop themselves towards Strategy Consultant Online. As a BLOOM intern you will tackle big and small projects that are all centred on one theme: digital. You will work closely with our consultants and support the entire process from initial problem analysis to implementation of the solution. The work will consist of collecting, preparing and analysing data and reporting your findings into (partial) deliverables for our clients.

What's in it for you? BLOOM is the ideal opportunity to experience consultancy work in a boutique consultancy firm in the center of Amsterdam. This internship will greatly increase your knowledge about online – a lightning fast and energetic business environment. Because of your responsibility for (parts of) projects from day one, you will further develop your entrepreneurial spirit, as well as enjoy a very steep learning curve. The BLOOM consultants will provide you with proper guidance, so you have the chance to develop all your consultancy skills (from data-analysis to creating the perfect deliverable). You will receive internship remuneration.

Who are we looking for? You always were the smartest commercial kid of the class and you are not afraid of numbers. Our ideal match is currently enrolled in a beta-, economics- or business-related Master program. He or she is not only analytical, but also “street smart”. Work-experience is not required, but an entrepreneurial mindset and an eager mentality certainly are.

Master students can apply for internships directly by contacting us at info@bloomamsterdam.com referring to Eric Klaassen.
