

BELIEBER IMPLANT

Justin Bieber has tragically died in this future. Even though burial is not something people are allowed to do, JB is buried somewhere in L.A. It becomes a place where many Beliebers travel to and find comfort in this loss. Beliebers are known for wanting a connection with their idol and show their loyalty. They used to purchase all sorts of merchandise, but thanks to nanotechnology they can now own a piece of their idol in their own bodies. Even after their idol has passed. This Belieber chip that you can implant near your heart keeps the connection alive and allows you to connect to other Beliebers around the world and really embody your love for JB and receive it back, fueled by the other Beliebers.
