

CIRCULAR ECONOMIC STAND

In 2022 problems kept piling up. Climate problems, worker shortages, nitrogen, farmers, etc. We didn't see an escape route. But 10 years later we stand at a whole different point, and we have managed to find that way out. Through connection with one another we managed to find a solution within the circular economy in a couple of years. Through balance in consumption and production and more. Through curiosity and personal development we have been able to step beyond our own shadow.
