

DECEASED DEPLETION

In this future, the goal is to raise awareness about responsible consumption and production. To do this, we would use augmented reality at a graveyard. The idea is to show people what the consumption of a lifetime is in relation to the worldwide production that is available per capita.