

KIDS IN THE SPOTLIGHT

It is the year 2050. Kids make and literally are the future. We have realized that to solve big problems like a climate crisis, we need to let go of our prejudicial thinking. We are focused on looking at the world from the children's point of view. This starts at kindergarten, where we have created a green and challenging environment. It shows toddlers how important it is to take good care of our environment. Kindergartens are green, light, open, and every child's opinion is good. We mainly encourage openness and fun. In this way, we create a new generation that knows how to keep complex questions simple and tackles big problems together, with pleasure. Climate crisis? Yeah, do you remember we used to have issues with that?
