

MY INFLUENCER CATS

In the future my cats are famous influencers on social media. We now get a lot of offers for brand deals. Currently, we are visiting a factory in an industrial park where they develop high tech cat toys. As I care about the well-being of my cats, I am careful while transporting them to the factory, where they have set up a special room for the cats. My cats are released in the room where they can explore the different cat toys. I record the process so later I can share their joy with the world. After filming, we can take our favorite cat toys with us. My cats are being put back into their carriers and we go back home. Today was a happy day.
