

THE ZEPPELIN PILOT

In everyday life, I am a zeppelin pilot. Often, the airship goes with the wind. I don't really like the sound of the engines and moreover winds are powerful enough to bring us around the world to transport goods. Yet my real job, the one I really like is not piloting, but having time to know stories from places, how they deal with being and becoming, and telling them in other places. Sometimes I record these stories, what people tell me, show me, and in some cities, they display them in cinemas!
