

Northwestern Polytechnical University (NPU) China Summer School 2018

The board of Northwestern Polytechnical University (NPU) has organized the Spring School during Easter holiday period in 2018. This is open to Bsc and Msc students.

For the Summer School, it contains 2 parts, part-1 is practical project with tailor-made subject and under NPU researchers' supervision; part-2 is Chinese culture experience and sightseeing. In the Spring School program, UT students could be mixed with other foreign students and Chinese students in team.

To support UT students' participation, NPU is willing to provide support including accommodation, insurance, tuition fee and relevant out campus culture experience and sightseeing, and food. UT students are responsible for their own flight ticket and visa fee.

Here are links to the experiences for the two previously held summer school where students from Institut National des Sciences Appliquées (INSA, France) and Universidad Politécnica De Madrid (UPM, Spain) participated, as a reference point of what can be expected.
