Welcome

Welcome to the Eu-SPRI Annual Conference 2024!

The Knowledge Transformation & Society (KiTeS) section in the department of Technology, Policy and Society (TPS) is pleased to host the Eu-SPRI Annual Conference from 5 to 7 June 2024 on the theme “GOVERNING TECHNOLOGY, RESEARCH, AND INNOVATION FOR BETTER WORLDS”.

When the Eu-SPRI Forum launched its first conference, which took place at the University of Twente in 2010, the world of STI policymaking looked very different. Since then, various upheavals of a crisis, pandemic, and geopolitical nature have taken place. This has changed both STI policies and the work for STI policy, altered the context and shifted various basic assumptions, development directions, policy approaches, and value horizons. It is no longer possible to simply carry on as before. We need to review and adapt the assessments of the situation, the theories, the research approaches, and the points of reference – more than for the usual change which always takes place anyway.

One way to do this is to review our ideas about the goals and desired conceptualisations of a world that is also shaped by STI policy. Under the pressure of change, what are the emerging new or old injected, desirable or avoidable situations and horizons that we are navigating towards in what we are doing here? What are these conceptions based upon and what do they imply? We want to ensure that Eu-SPRI 2024 will be the place where these questions are discussed among international colleagues with open minds and hearts.

With this conference, our new Knowledge Transformation & Society (KiTeS) group, resulting from the merger of STePS (Science, Technology, and Policy Studies) and CHEPS (Centre for Higher Education Policy Studies) in 2023, also introduces itself to the Forum as the successor to founding member STePS. At the same time, the broad involvement of colleagues from a wide range of research groups within our university underscores the relevance of the Eu-SPRI Forum for us – and to get back with you, esteemed guests, into conversation about STI policy. We would like our colleagues within the university to continue to network with the Eu-SPRI Forum community and work together in the future.

We look forward to seeing you in Enschede!

Keynote Speech (Day 1)

Anyone not in favour of a better world? STI, societal transitions and the pluralising of value systems

Eefje Cuppen

Director of the Rathenau Instituut

Professor of Governance of Sustainability at the Institute of Public Administration of Leiden University

Prof. Eefje Cuppen is director of the Rathenau Instituut (since 2022). Rathenau Instituut supports the formation of public and political opinion on science, innovation, and new technology and provides insight into the functioning of the science system. Rathenau Instituut conducts research and organises dialogue.

Eefje Cuppen is also part-time Professor of Governance of Sustainability at the Institute of Public Administration of the Faculty of Governance & Global Affairs at Leiden University since 2020. There she leads an interdisciplinary research program on participatory modelling and energy justice, together with TU Delft and a consortium of public and private organisations. She is one of the initiators of Leiden University's interfaculty programme Liveable Planet, which aims to develop new interdisciplinary research and education on sustainability. She is a member of the Societal Impact Team (MIT) that advises the Dutch government on the societal impacts of COVID and other pandemics. She is regularly invited to contribute to events and committees on societal and governance aspects of science, technology, and innovation.

Eefje Cuppen studied Innovation Sciences at Eindhoven University of Technology. She obtained her PhD in 2010 from VU University Amsterdam at the Institute for Environmental Issues, with a thesis on the design of a participatory method for stakeholder dialogues on environmental issues. After her PhD, she worked for 10 years at TU Delft's Faculty of Technology, Governance & Management, where, among other things, she led a research programme on controversies and citizen and stakeholder participation in policy and planning in the context of energy transition.

Keynote Speech (Day 2)

Technologies, transitions and the “geopolitics” of future worlds

Douglas K. R. Robinson

Policy Advisor, OECD
Directorate for Science, Technology and Innovation

Dr. Douglas K. R. Robinson is a Policy Advisor at the OECD Science and Technology Policy division, where he is spearheading work on Futures and Strategic Intelligence for Transformative STI policy, for Anticipatory Governance of new and emerging technologies, and for mission and challenge-oriented technology assessment.

Douglas also plays a leading role in the OECD Global Forum on Technology where he has created, and animates, an expert focus group of 66 synthetic biology experts and stakeholders spanning 32 different countries, to explore potential futures of synthetic biology and biomanufacturing. In the margins of the STP Meeting of Ministers in April, Douglas was main organiser of a recent high-level event Building our Biofuture, involving Ministers, visionary technology and governance experts and NGOs, exploring the policy challenges and opportunities for next generation biotechnologies in an era of geopolitical tensions.

Douglas holds a PhD in technology assessment as part of the co-evolution of emerging technologies and society (University of Twente 2010) and a Habilitation (Professor Qualification) in Innovation Management (Université Paris Dauphine 2020).

Before arriving at the OECD/STP Douglas was co-director of the LISIS research lab in Paris and a research scientist at the CNRS, France. He is also, since 2017, an honorary associate of the Institute for Innovation and Public Purpose at UCL, UK, led by Prof. Mariana Mazzucato focusing on mission-oriented innovation policies.

Previous published works (see Google Scholar), include topics such as the sociology of expectations, forecasting innovation pathways for emerging technologies, anticipatory impact assessment and foresight, responsible research and innovation, and co-creation of technologies for societal grand challenges.

Engaging with Eu-SPRI Forum's 4th Mission at the Eu-SPRI 2024 Conference: Better science-policy interfaces for "Better worlds"

Stakeholder Advisory Board Plenary Session (Day 1)

Learning from science-policy interfaces to support next generation STI policies

Wednesday, June 5th, 17:30 to 18:30

Eu-SPRI Forum's Stakeholder Advisory Board has just started its second term involving two new members and an amended mandate. The session will introduce the five members – all of them inspiring boundary-spanners between the academic and policy worlds, – as well as their ideas for interaction with the Eu-SPRI Forum community in the next years.

The session will also expand on the SAB's work of the first term and initiate an exchange of experiences with selected science-policy interfaces that aim to support the new generation of STI policies: addressing "better worlds" and new geopolitical challenges. It invites Eu-SPRI Forum researchers involved in such initiatives to share their experiences in the discussion. The moderated discussion will question to what extent these initiatives incorporate the specific design features and practices needed to support transformative policies and the challenges these entail.

Networking lunch (Day 3)

Transformative Research and Innovation Policy European Hub

Friday, June 7th, 12:00 to 12.45

Inform yourself about the nascent network of European STI ministries, agencies, funders, and research organisations dedicated to transformative R&I policy for sustainable and equitable development. Its central ambition is to enhance partnerships between STI policy research organisations and public administration active in the field of STI to co-produce – through different kinds of engagements – transformative R&I policy initiatives. As a member organisation of the Eu-SPRI Forum you might want to consider to join the initiative during its demonstration phase and help to build it by seeking to identify a potential tandem partner from among public sector organisations in your country.

Special Session (Day 3)

How the gap between science and policy could be bridged?

The exploratory initiative of the Policy Dialogues Demonstrator

Friday, June 7th, 12:45 to 14.15

In early 2023, the exploratory initiative "Policy Dialogues Demonstrator \(P2D\)" was launched by EU-SPRI Forum as an activity to support its 4th mission. As a result of this initiative two complementary science-policy demonstrators with a transformative character are currently being developed.

The objective of this Special Session is to present the two demonstrators, to discuss their implementation and invite colleagues to join the demonstration phase:

- Demonstrator 1: Towards a Transformative Research and Innovation Policy European Hub (TRIP EU-HUB).
- Demonstrator 2: Science-Policy Dialogue: an Early Career Training

Plenary Panel (Day 3)

The Future of the European R&I Framework Programme – FP10

The panel

Maria Leptin, President of the European Research Council (ERC)

Michiel Scheffer, President of the Board of the European Innovation Council

Eric Canton, Chief Economist HoU, Directorate-General for Research and Innovation, European Commission

Alejandra Boni, Deputy Director Ingenio CSIC-UPV, Technical University of Valencia

Magnus Gulbrandsen, Professor at the TIK Centre for Technology, Innovation and Culture

Carsten Dreher, Professor for Innovation Management at Freie Universität Berlin

Moderator: Matthias Weber, Head of Center for Innovation Systems and Policy at AIT Austrian Institute of Technology

Topic and questions

The R&I framework programmes will have their 40th jubilee this year. Without any pause, the discussion on the new Framework Programme (number 10) is gaining momentum. Interim reviews, H2020 evaluation, HLG process, and Member States positions on FP 10 are on the way, added with various stakeholders' position papers. It is time to reconsider achievements, tools, and narratives, i.e., with the view on new global challenges and European policy goals. Let's take a moment and see what new research on R&I policymaking would provide to that debate. Questions to be addressed could be, for example:

- Which relevance did/do the FPs really have in the overall context of the Unions R&I policies? I.e., in regard to other activities in industrial policy, in transformation efforts towards greening and digitalisation or in respect to the Member States or private industrial R&I?
- How does the FPs' European perspective relate to Member States' national R&I policy ambitions, in times of resurging nationalism and anti-European animus?
- What role can a framework programme for research and innovation play when it comes to major issues such as CO<sub>2</sub>-free industries, the digitalisation of Europe, and economic security? And what can other policy areas expect from the framework programme in the future?
- Are the tasks realisable or are there too many unrealistic expectations?
- What role does the often-mentioned mission-orientation play and is it understood by the political decision-makers?
- Is the structure of Horizon Europe in pillars, budgets, and the toolbox of instruments applied working to achieve the intended long-term goals; is this framework agile and adaptive enough at the same time?

The Parallel Sessions

Please note that printed copies of the programme will not be available at the conference, so please have an electronic copy available. Any further updates will be available on the conference website (Programme page).

LAST MINUTE SESSION CHANGES

We have worked closely with Track and Special Session chairs to finalise the multiple sessions in the programme, and we are grateful for all their hard work. However, until the conference date we might still see minor changes (including dropouts) in sessions. Our suggested guideline is that if a presenter has dropped out in your session please continue with the remaining presenters and please use the time for discussion or break earlier. Your chair may suggest this. If a chair has dropped out, we suggest that the last presenter acts as chair, but also any other presenter or attendee in the room could assume this role.

PRESENTATION FORMATS

Oral sessions usually consist of a mixture of full presentations and panel discussions. Organisers are free to choose the type of exchange. We are also pleased to present posters three times: each day at lunchtime in the Technohal, where you will have your lunch. Grab a tasty dish and discuss with the poster presenters!

Presenters, Session Chairs and Discussants are kindly asked to observe these important rules:

- Paper presentations generally take place in 90-minute sessions, with the exception of Parallel Sessions 7 on Thursday, 6 June, from 3.45 pm, for which we have scheduled 120 minutes (until 5:45 pm).
- Session Chairs of meetings must ensure that an equal distribution of speaking and discussion time is agreed between all speakers before the meeting begins. As a rule, the gross time per speaker should take up three quarters and the discussion of the presentation one quarter of the time. Deviations must be agreed.
- Time keeping: The conference agenda is very full with almost 300 registered papers. Time keeping is the responsibility of the Session Chair to ensure that presenting time and discussion time is balanced according to their judgement.
- Use of computers: Each room is equipped with a PC and a projector. 'Guest' log-in details will be available next to the PC in each room and the Chairs will help session participants to log-in.
- Uploading your presentation on the day: Presenters and Chairs should arrive at the room 5 minutes before the start of their session, to ensure that presentations are uploaded to the PC. In order to upload your presentation, please bring your presentation on a memory/USB stick.
- Room layout: If possible, the tables and chairs in the rooms are arranged in such a way that there is no need for a frontal speaking/listening situation, but that more dialogue is possible. Depending on the spatial conditions, layouts in coffee house or U-shape style can be found. If a session wishes to deviate from this, we ask that the tables and chairs be rearranged as they are.

Overview of the Parallel Sessions

5 June 2024

We are working closely with Track and Special Session convenors to finalise the multiple sessions in the programme. However, until the conference date we might still see minor changes (including dropouts) in sessions. Our suggested guideline is that if a presenter has dropped out in your session please continue with the remaining presenters and please use the time for discussion or break earlier. Your chair may suggest this. If a chair has dropped out, we suggest that the last presenter acts as chair, but also any other presenter or attendee in the room could assume this role.

For track and special sessions for which no chair has yet been named, as well as for open track sessions, we have elevated the last presenter to the position of chair. In many cases, local colleagues have taken on the role of chairs, full of anticipation for the exciting topics of the papers.

If papers are suddenly missing from a session in a new version of the programme, this means that they have been withdrawn.

Posters

Papers accepted for poster presentation will be exhibited in the Technohal Atrium/TechMed Centre.

Poster presentations will take place during the lunch breaks in Technohal on all three days of the conference, providing an excellent opportunity for engagement and discussion. During this time, presenters are expected to be available at their posters to answer questions and discuss their work with conference attendees.

Transfer to the Conference Dinner

On Thursday June 6th we have arranged coaches to bring our guests after the end of the conference day to the Twentsche Foodhall for the Conference dinner.

18:30 – 18:45 Departure point: Boerderijweg / Parking 2

Walk straight up from Ravelijn across the bridge, passing by Cubicus to Boerderijweg

Useful information

REGISTRATION

Wednesday 5 June: 08:45 – 09:30 (Ravelijn Atrium).

If you have any questions or if you want to register on Thursday 6 or Friday 7 June, you can visit the registration & information desk (Ravelijn Atrium, open from 08:00 – 17:00).

WIFI CODES

The following networks will be available during the conference:

Network 1: Eduroam (with your personal password)

Network 2: Eduroam Guest Access (EVA)

An Eduroam Visitor Account (EVA) can be created by UT employees to grant guests access to the Eduroam network. For more information see <https://eva.eduroam.nl/>

Network 3: Guest network 'Enschede Stad van Nu'

The campus offers a free internet service for visitors. Select the WLAN network 'Enschede Stad van nu' and open your browser. First you will see a page on which you will be requested to accept the conditions for the use of wireless internet. (Small button at the bottom of the page!)

ACCESSIBILITY

If you have any questions about campus accessibility, please do get in touch.

DIETARY REQUIREMENTS

We have received your dietary requirements with your registration and all food will be signposted. Catering staff will be on hand if you require any assistance, so please make us aware if you have any queries.

PHOTOGRAPHY

There will be two photographers at the event. Should you NOT wish to have your photo taken please let us know at the registration desk upon arrival.

ASSISTANCE DURING THE CONFERENCE

Our team of Volunteers will be happy to assist you with any issues you might have during the conference, finding your way around, and any IT issues inside the session rooms. You will see them around in Carré, Ravelijn, and Technohal buildings wearing UT/Eu-SPRI Forum t-shirts. Moreover, our team at the Registration Desk will also be at your disposal to assist you in every way possible.

If you have any questions or require any assistance, please get in touch with us: euspri2024@utwente.nl.

Conference Location: Travelling to the Campus

Here, you will find detailed information on how to travel to the University of Twente from various external locations and options for commuting between the campus and the city centre of Enschede.

Travelling to the university campus by air

- Schiphol Airport (Amsterdam) to University of Twente

Train: Direct trains from Schiphol Airport to Enschede Central Station run frequently (approximately every 30 minutes). The journey takes about 2 hours. You can take a bus or taxi to the University of Twente campus from Enschede Central Station or Hengelo Station.

Latest train: The last train from Schiphol to Enschede departs around 23:00.

- Düsseldorf Airport (Germany) to University of Twente

Train: Take a train from Düsseldorf Airport to Enschede, with a transfer usually at Duisburg or Oberhausen. The journey takes approximately 2.5 hours. Use bus or taxi services from Enschede Central Station to reach the campus.

Latest train: The latest train departs a little after 22:00.

Travelling to the university campus by train

- From Major Dutch Cities (Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Utrecht):

Regular intercity trains connect these cities to Enschede. Travel time varies from 1.5 to 2.5 hours. Continue to the campus via local buses once at Enschede Central Station or Hengelo Station.

Latest train: The last intercity train from Amsterdam to Enschede departs around 23:00 and from Utrecht around 23.30. Be aware that the latest buses from Enschede Centre to the campus depart around midnight, and the latest from Hengelo depart around 23.00. Until approximately 0:45, it is possible to take the regional train to “Enschede Kennispark” station and take a 15-minute walk to the campus. Single price Amsterdam to Enschede, 2nd class is around 27 euros.

- From Germany (Münster / Dortmund)

A direct train connection from Dortmund to Enschede takes around 2 hours. The latest direct train departs before 21.00. There is also a direct local train from Münster, which takes about 1 hour and 20 minutes. The latest possibility for Enschede is around 23.00.

Payment is possible by checking in and out by bank card or credit card (see “additional information”).

To the campus by car

- From direction Amsterdam

Take the A1 motorway towards Hengelo/Enschede and follow the signs to the University of Twente.

- From Germany:

Use the A30 motorway towards Bad Bentheim and follow the Dutch signs for Enschede/University of Twente. Plenty of free parking space is available on campus. Parking areas 2 and 4 are close to the buildings where the conference is hosted. Parking spots in the inner centre are plenty but require payment.

To the campus by bus

Several buses run frequently between the University of Twente campus and Enschede Central Station. The journey takes approximately 15 minutes. Get off at the stop “Bushalte Westebegraafplaats/UT”. Buses run every 10-15 minutes during peak hours and once every 30 minutes in the evening.

From Hengelo, you can take bus 9 towards Enschede CS and get, after about 10 minutes, off at “Bushalte Westebegraafplaats/UT”.

The prices are a little more than 2 euros per trip. Similarly to the train, payment is possible by checking in and out by bank card or credit card (see “additional information”).

To the campus by taxi

Taxi Services: These are readily available at the central station area, and several taxi services are available online/by phone. The ride from the campus to the city centre takes approximately 10 minutes.

To the campus by bike

By bike, the campus is easily and safely accessible within approximately 15 minutes via the Hengelose Straat. In possession of an “OV-chipkaart”, the OV fiets is an easy option to rent a bike.

By foot from campus to the city centre

For those who prefer walking, it is a scenic route that takes about 45 minutes from the campus to the city centre. The greenest and quietest route is to leave the campus via “De Achterhorst” > “Viermarkenweg”, which guides you through green areas and quiet living areas (use Google Maps or equivalent).

Additional Information

Public Transport Apps: Visit/download the 9292 app for local and national public transport or the NS app (trains) for real-time public transport schedules and routes in the Netherlands.

Tickets: Purchase bus and train tickets at stations or use the OV-chipkaart, which can be topped up at various points throughout the city and campus. You can check in and out of public transport using your bank card if you have bank cards from ABN AMRO, ASN Bank, Bunq, Knap, ING, Rabobank, Regiobank, Triodos, or SNS. Moreover, Maestro, V PAY, Mastercard and Visa credit cards can be used to check in if they allow contactless payment.

We hope this guide makes your travel to and around the University of Twente as smooth and convenient as possible. If you have any further questions, contact the conference organisers.

Getting around the conference

A map of the campus and an excerpt of the conference area can be found below on the next page and here. The events and sessions of the conference take place in the Ravelijn (no. 10), Waaier (no. 12), Carré (no. 15), and Technohal (no. 18). In the middle of these buildings is a central square, O&O plein (no. 0). All entrances are located at the sides of this square. Mind that to enter the Waaier and Carré, use the entrance of Hall B (no. 13).

The registration desk is located in the open area of the Ravelijn building (no. 10). The keynote speeches and plenary sessions will take place in lecture hall Waaier 2 (no. 12). Waaier 2 is accessible from the second floor of the Waaier building (go up the stairs from Hall B to the right; no. 13). The lunch break and poster sessions will take place in the central room of the Technohal (no. 18). The parallel sessions will take place in different rooms of the buildings Ravelijn (no. 10), Carré (no. 15) and Technohal/TechMed Centre (no. 18). The exact location can be found in the conference pack with the overview of the parallel sessions. To the Rooms:

Carré (no. 15). The rooms in Carré can be accessed through the stairway in Hall B (no. 13). By passing the corridor after the stairs, the rooms starting with 2 can be found on the right-hand side of the first floor. For rooms starting with 3, take the stairs to the second floor.

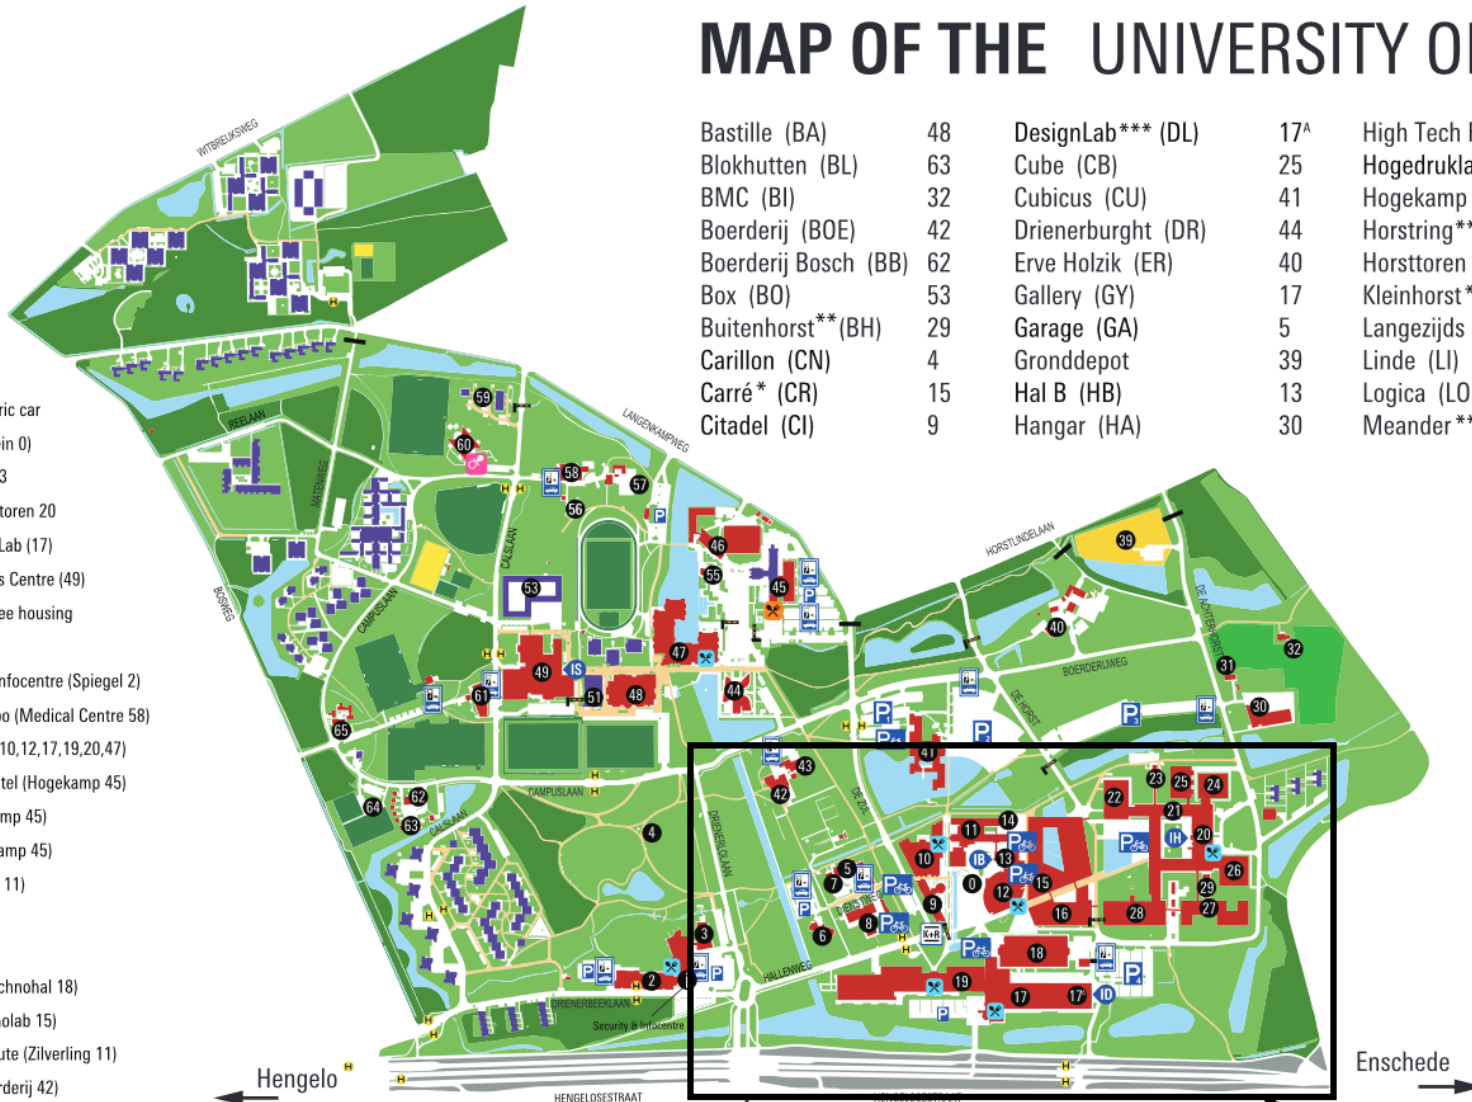

Technohal (no. 18). Room 1336 can be found on the ground floor in the back. For room 3338, take the stairs to the second floor. From the outside, the Technohal building is called TechMed Centre.

Ravelijn (no. 10). The rooms starting with 2 are on the first floor, and rooms starting with 4 are on the third floor. Make sure to carefully follow the signs for the rooms on the third floor, as rooms with 42## require you to take a different staircase from rooms with 43##.

The campus is very spacious and green, so don't forget to explore the campus and its facilities!

Sponsor

Technopolis Group is one of Europe's leading consultancies in science, technology and innovation policy. We are deep specialists in policy evaluation and bring our 30+ years' knowledge and experience to provide consultancy studies and strategic advice to decision-makers who want to achieve economic growth and improved social welfare through higher education, research and innovation, green economy and health initiatives, institutional development, regional and international development, entrepreneurship, SMEs and industry support. We strive to be ahead of the curve by continual development of our expertise in evaluation and analytical methods and digital tools. We have offices across Europe and in Côte D'Ivoire and Colombia. Our clients are typically ministries that support science, technology and industry, regional governments, international development agencies, research councils, innovation agencies and international organisations such as the European Commission, OECD, UNIDO, UNESCO and World Bank.
