

The below diagram shows what action a manager is to take in the case of (prolonged) sickness absence of staff members. Whenever staff members are absent due to sickness, the possibility of them continuing to perform part of the work, or other work, is always to be looked into.

