ANNUAL REPORT 2012

NETHERLANDS INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT

The Netherlands Institute of Government (NIG) is an interuniversity research school in which nine Dutch universities participate. As of 2010 NIG has a cooperation with two Flemish universities: the KU Leuven and the University of Antwerp. NIG coordinates and stimulates research in the area of public administration and political science and offers a training program for Ph.D. students. In 2012 the research school received accreditation for a fourth term of six years from the Royal Netherlands Academy of Arts and Sciences (KNAW).

In 2012 NIG was led by the scientific director prof. dr. Walter Kickert and executive director dr. Sandra Groeneveld, and assisted by the office manager Vicky Balsem. In March 2013 NIG has been moved from the Erasmus University Rotterdam to the University of Twente. Since then NIG is coordinated by prof. dr. Bas Denters (scientific director), dr. Maurits Sanders (executive director) and Seeta Autar (bureau manager).

PREFACE

This annual report contains information on the major activities of the Netherlands Institute of Government (NIG) in 2012. The reader will find information on both our training programme and research activities. Also several output indicators are reported. The financial report is published separately.

Prof. dr. Bas Denters
Scientific Director NIG
January 2014

2012: A BRIEF OVERVIEW

In 2012 the number of standard and senior NIG-members was 214, while the number of Ph.D. members was 129.

In the period 2006-2011 the main theme of the NIG research program was 'Governance, Citizens and the State' with three sub themes 'citizens and governance' (including EU, e-governance, representation and legitimacy), 'future of nation state' (including EU, multi-level governance and institutions) and 'public management in joined-up world' (reflecting new trends in public management). A survey of the actual research activities at the participating administrative and political science departments, the NIG research colloquiums and the research panels at the annual NIG-conferences, reveals that there are in fact four main research themes that receive substantial and common attention:

- Multi-level governance and Europe
- Multi-actor governance in complexity
- Political institutions and democracy
- Public Management

These main themes are guiding in NIG's research activities for the period 2012-2017. Further details can be found in NIG's 'Scientific Mission and Research Programme 2012-2017'.

In 2011 we made several adjustments in our doctorate training programme which were successfully implemented in 2012. Despite the changes in the training programme, the number of Ph.D. students that started with their education in 2012 was lower than previous years.

Due to the adjustments in NIG's context, e.g. an increasing number of Ph.D. students with a research master, an increasing number of Ph.D. students with a foreign background and the development of Ph.D. programmes in local graduate schools, the NIG training programme has to be continuously adapted to meet the demands of NIG's members. The scientific director and executive director will schedule meetings in 2013 and 2014 with the deans and scientific directors of the universities that participate and cooperate with NIG. An important objective of these meetings is to identify the demands of NIG-members about the training programme.

Cooperations with foreign universities were further intensified to enable the exchange of courses for Ph.D. students from NIG and abroad. NIG aims to expand the number of international cooperations in the near future.

At the annual conference in Leuven, dr. Thomas Schillemans (Utrecht University) was awarded the prize for 'best supervisor', following a nomination procedure organized by the NIG Ph.D. council. Sandra Jacobs, chair of the Ph.D. council, presented the award to him.

Untill 2012 NIG awarded: (i) research activation grants, (ii) travel grants for Ph.D. students and (iii) edit grants. In 2012 these grants were discharged in order to bring balance in the budget. The fee for members was also increased. In 2012 the annual contribution consists of a fixed part (€ 2500 per university) and a fee per staff member who is a member of NIG (€ 675 per member). Tuition fees amounts to € 1.700 per student who takes the full training programme.

RESEARCH COLLOQUIA

Research Colloquia have been established to fill 'the gap' which exists between finishing NIG coursework and completion of the dissertation. Colloquia help to improve the interaction between junior and senior researchers from all member institutions. Moreover, they can lead to interesting and relevant academic outputs, such as scientific publications and new networks. Guidelines on how to establish a new colloquium are published on the website.

In 2012 2 new colloquia has been established:

- Colloquium on Public and Political Leadership. Chaired by dr. Sabina Stiller (Wageningen University & Research Centre) and dr. Karin Lasthuizen (VU University Amsterdam).
- Colloquium on Strategic HRM in the public sector. Chaired by dr. Sandra Groeneveld (Erasmus University Rotterdam) and prof. dr. Peter Leisink (Utrecht University).

The other colloquia in 2012 were:

- Colloquium on Water Governance. Chaired by prof. dr. Jurian Edelenbos (Erasmus University Rotterdam), dr. Arwin van Buuren (Erasmus University Rotterdam) and prof. dr. Stefan Kuks (University of Twente).
- Colloquium on Good governance. Chaired by prof. dr. Cor van Montfort (University of Tilburg), dr. Gjalt de Graaf, prof. dr. Leo Huberts and dr. Zeger van der Wal (VU University Amsterdam).
- Colloquium on Public Managers. Chaired by prof. dr. Mirko Noordegraaf (Utrecht University) and prof. dr. Bram Steijn (Erasmus University Rotterdam).
- Colloquium on Administrative Reform in Central and Eastern Europe: Governance and Politics. Chaired by dr. Giselle Bosse (Maastricht University) and dr. Veronica Junjan (Twente University).
- Colloquium on Regulatory Governance. Chaired by dr. Martijn Groenleer, (Delft University of Technology), dr. Sandra van Thiel (Erasmus University Rotterdam), dr. Esther Versluis (Maastricht University) and dr. Kutsal Yesilkagit (Utrecht University).

Some colloquia met at the annual NIG work conference (see below).

TRAINING & COURSE EVALUATIONS

The curriculum consists of a combination of courses and tutorials. The courses provide the common core of the curriculum and are offered in the form of four seminars on the state of the art of the discipline and research methodology, and two weeks with short courses on skills. In addition Ph.D. students attend four tutorials with senior researchers in which they focus on topics that are specifically relevant to their dissertation topic. It is possible to substitute the tutorials with other customized forms of training that Ph.D. students may take such as summer schools, seminars and courses with other research schools, provided they are of a sufficient weight and are of a disciplinary nature. Further details on the curriculum can be found in the course guide.

The participants in the 2012/2013 NIG courses assessed the courses individually, using a form with different questions, to be rated at a five-point grade scale. The table below shows the number of students who participated in the various NIG courses and the result of their assessment, based on several questions on the contents of the course.

In 2012 NIG researchers produced in total 580 scholarly publications, compared to 616 publications in 2011. The percentage of journal publications is 53% of all scientific publications (in 2011: 56%). The percentage of international publications on the total of publications is 77%, compared to 67% in 2011. The number of international journal articles is 232 in 2012 (40% of all scientific publications) compared to 224 in 2011 (37% of all scientific publications).
