

NIG Annual Workconference

Panel 3: Political discontent and anti-establishment politics

Chaired by:

Julien van Ostaaijen (Tilburg University)

Claartje Brons (Tilburg University)

Program:

The panel session will take place on Thursday, November 25th, 11.00 -15.30 hours

The panel will start with an introduction of the topic and the program by the organizers. There is room for a brief paper presentation by the authors (5 min) and a critical reflection of each paper by a discussant (10 minutes). The author of the paper then has 5 minutes to respond, followed by a general discussion of 10 minutes per paper. In the program we have also provided time for general discussion on the cross cutting themes of this panel. The last session of the panel is reserved to discuss future plans and draw conclusions from the panel discussions.

Given the format; all participants are expected to read all papers in advance. Please bring your own copies (and/or handouts).

Papers presented are:

- How do you mean 'not heard'? Understanding citizens' evaluations of government responsiveness.
Author: Margit van Wessel (Wageningen University)
- Where do Distrusting Voters Turn to if there is no Viable Exit or Voice Option?
Authors: Marc Hooghe (KU Leuven), Sofie Marien (KU Leuven), Teun Pauwels (ULB)
- A vote of angry citizens? Political discontent and voting in 2006 national elections in the Netherlands.
Author: Claartje Brons (Tilburg University)
- Political Fantasies and Symptoms: Diagnosing Frustrations of Dutch Citizens.
Author: Shivant Jhagroe (Erasmus University)
- De geloofwaardigheid van populistische politiek in een consensusdemocratie: de casus Leefbaar Rotterdam 2002-2010.
Author: Julien van Ostaaijen (Tilburg University)