

Planning panel session NIG-colloquium 'climate and energy governance'; November 27th-28th 2014, Delft.

Thursday November 27th: session for PhD-projects and casuistry
Time	No.	By	Title of paper
14:00 - 14:20	Opening	Van Bueren, Hoppe, Sanders
14:20 - 15:00	Paper 1	Jain, Hoppe, Bressers	Niche formation of Net Zero Energy Buildings in India the role of policy programs.
15:00 - 15:40	Paper 2	El Mustafa, Hoppe, Bressers	Governance of solar water heater systems adoption in Lebanon.
15:40 - 16:20	Paper 3	Chalmers, Locker	The Great Leap Abroad: How China's Energy Security Dilemma Shapes its Overseas Investment in Oil and Gas.
16.20 - 16.30	Break
16:30 - 17:00	Paper 4	Rijk	Navigating Sustainability in the Port of Rotterdam: The LNG Case
17:10 - 17:50	Paper 5	Butenko	Odorization of natural gas versus odorization of biomethane: does equal legal treatment of biomethane on EU and Dutch national levels translate into the same odorization regime?
17:50 - 18:00	Closure	Hoppe, Van Bueren, Sanders

Friday November 28th: session on theoretical elaboration field
Time	No.	By	Title of paper
9:00 - 9:10	Opening + summary Thursday	Van Bueren, Hoppe, Sanders
9:10 - 9:50	Paper 6	Van den Berg, Hoppe, Coenen	Meta-analysis of academic journal articles addressing politics and policies for transitional change in the Dutch energy system.
9:50 - 10:30	Paper 7	Groenleer	Redundancy in multilevel energy governance: Why (and when) regulatory overlap can be valuable.
10:30 - 11:10	Paper 8	Hufen	Energietransitie Optima Forma
11.10 - 11.20	Break
11:20 - 12:00	Paper 9	Karlsson-Vinkhuyzen, McGee	Strengthening International Community: The Missing Link in the Architecture of Global Environmental Governance?
12:00 - 12:40	Paper 10	Cuppen	Which theories from public administration and/or policy studies may contribute to improve insights on the transition to a sustainable energy economy, and how can they be applied?
12:40 - 13:00	Closure	Hoppe, Van Bueren, Sanders

Papers are presented in 25 minute intervals. Subsequently, there will be room for discussion about the paper. (15 minutes)