

Panel 6: Citizens' Coproduction of Public Services, Thursday 5 November

(‘Coproductie van beleid’ op de NIG-conferentie op 5 november, in Nijmegen).

The program is as follows:

13.30 – 15.00 Presentation of 4 academic papers & discussion

Sanne Grotenbreg: Facilitation as the new collaboration: Dilemmas of the enabling state

Discussant: Marlies Honingh or Taco Brandsen

Hannelore Mees & Ann Crabbé: Co-production in flood risk governance: experiences from 6 European member states.

Discussant: Anna Butenko

Anna Butenko: Local Energy in the Netherlands: Do We Put the Money Where the Mouth Is?

Discussant: Sanne Grotenbreg

Marlies Honingh & Taco Brandsen: Co-production in schools for primary education; what can be learned from studying parental involvement:

Discussant: Hannelore Mees or Ann Crabbé

15.00 – 15.30 Coffee break

15.30 – 18.00 Meeting with practitioners (in Dutch)

We invited practitioners from the Netherlands and Flanders to present their coproduction cases and discuss these with the academics and other practitioners present. All initiatives invited relate to the policy field of environment/energy/sustainability. We are convinced that not only the presentation of the academic papers, but also the discussion with practitioners will provide valuable insights for academia.
