

Dear master students,

There is a MSc thesis opportunity that we have here at the Department CSTM of the University of Twente. The MSc thesis study will be part of an international project on the assessment of the water governance in Turkey, Jordan and Palestine. The UT student will focus on the Turkey case. Supervisors will be prof. Hans Bressers and myself.

Following tasks are expected to be fulfilled by the student:

- Conducting a literature review on the thesis subject, which will be further specified in consultation with the supervisors.
- Reviewing the policy and practice documents on the thesis subject.
- Designing, conducting and analyzing surveys and/or interviews with the stakeholders
- Writing a scientific article to report the project results.
- Optional task: Supporting the project team on organizing meetings and workshops, which can be held in Turkey, Jordan and Palestine.

A maximum of 2000 Euros will be funded for the travel and accommodation costs of the fieldwork in Turkey. Additional funding can be available, in case the student is able to fulfil the optional task of supporting the project team.

We expect the student to start as soon as possible, preferably before the end of 2014, and finish by the end of September 2015. The thesis completion deadline can be extended until December 2015 depending on the other study requirements of the student.

If you need more information or clarification, please let me know.
