Dear Chair of the University Council,

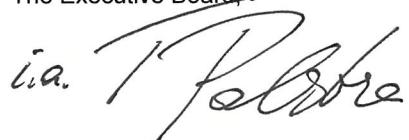

During our discussions regarding the UT Language Policy and the Code of Conduct Language, the Executive Board promised a clarification on the term "legally binding documents" and the language used in those documents. The reason for this is to avoid potential confusion and unwarranted expectations on the part of both the recipients and the authors of the relevant documents.

The general principle of the UT considering the language of the organization – English, unless - also applies to formal documents. The "unless" part though needs clarification and is therefore added to the overview (see next page).

As well as sending this information to the University Council, the organization will amongst others be informed through the website regarding the language policy (launched summer 2019). Please note that current practices may still differ from the policy because the UT is still in a transitional phase.. It is also possible that, based on new insights, extensions and/or adjustments may be made to the choice of language of documents. When this situation arises, the relevant stakeholders will obviously be informed.

With kind regards,

The Executive Board,

V. van der Chijs,
President

UNIVERSITY OF TWENTE.
