

Join the communication team at Happy Folk!

Marketing Communication Internship

We are looking for a marketing communication intern who is as passionate about communication and design as we are! Here you can make a real impact on the success of the company and the people you work with!

Why work with us?

Next to being part of an international multi-disciplinary team, we offer you the opportunity to excel in an ambitious, creative and diverse work environment. If you are someone who embraces responsibility, has the resolve to work in a fast-pace environment, has the ambition to tackle complex professional challenges and excels in learning – you are going to have a great time here!

Start date: August/ September 2017

Responsibilities

- Create content for different types of media and audiences (e.g. website content, press releases, advertorials);
- Support of the social media activities of Happy Folk;
- Support the team in the implementation of various communication projects for clients;
- Produce PR and marketing communication reports for clients;
- Update PR databases;
- Support the team in day-to-day operations;
- Research;
- Handle media requests.

Your qualifications & skills

- Currently enrolled in a study programme in the field of Communication, Journalism, Linguistics or similar;
- Available for 40 hours a week;
- Outstanding spoken and written English (native level of proficiency);
- Outstanding writing and editing skills; experience in writing for various target audiences and media is appreciated;
- Excellent communication skills;
- Excellent knowledge of MS Office;
- Experience in working with content management systems is appreciated.

Qualities

- You genuinely have a love for language and writing;
- Your approach to tasks and issues is analytical and quality-oriented;
- You are inquisitive and willing to push your own boundaries;
- You are keen to learn new skills, willing to adapt, and appreciate feedback;
- You handle tasks responsibly, thoroughly and in an organised fashion, with an eye for detail;
- Working in a team is fun for you and have great social skills;
- You are ambitious and like to take initiative;
- You are eager to meet deadlines in high-paced work environments.

What We Offer

- The opportunity to be part of an international, multi-disciplinary team;
- To learn in an ambitious, creative and diverse environment;
- To work for exciting and enthusiastic clients;
- The chance to gain professional experience and grow professionally;
- A fair remuneration.

Are you up for a challenge?

If so, please send us your application to hello@happy-folk.com before 28 July 2017 and include:

- Your CV;
- Motivation letter which outlines your professional and learning ambitions;
- At least three examples of writing which showcase your ability to write for diverse media;
- At least one recommendations of professional excellence.

*Incomplete applications will not be taken into consideration.